Subject: Drop by with the University of Kentucky's Ag Leadership Program

- The University of Kentucky College of Agriculture runs a continuing education program called the KY Ag Leadership Program (or "KALP"). KALP teaches younger farmers and those in agribusiness about the importance of public advocacy on their issues in Washington (both regulatory and on Capitol Hill).
- This group of young Kentucky farmers (~25 attendees) will be meeting with the Office of Public Engagement and would be thrilled if you could say hello/ do a photo.
- Main Point of Contact: Dr. Will Snell, Agriculture Economist at UK (close with Leader McConnell).
- KY Counties Represented: Henderson, Webster, McClean, Hancock, Daviess, Fayette Counties.
